

Hello Spider

Thank you for coming out to the S.A.L.C, which is 1 of the 9 sites with Alternative Attendance Program serving at risk youth. We were so lucky to have you come out to SALC and 2 of other sites came too. We are very pleased with our Humber College Child and Youth Worker, Kristi, for connecting with you.

I would like to keep your name for future reference as your presentation hit home for many of our students. Your message matches ours in the sense of goal setting, self determination and self-motivation and self esteem are key building blocks for a successful future. Our youth often come to us so self defeated and feel success is unattainable. We so appreciate the special rate and hope to have you come out again. Perhaps at our mini youth conference where I organize speakers and bring 4 programs together for a day of inspiration and motivation. I would love to connect with you again next year for that.

Quotes:

A 17 year old returning to school after a year of a story similar to your youth reported: "That guy is my hero! That was the best thing i ever heard" He felt inspired by your words.

A 15 year indicated that he found the presentation "funny and inspiring". A 16 year old stated "He is amazing and made me laugh. I can't believe he knew Diana Ross and parties with Russell Peters".

Thank you
